PRESIDENTS MESSAGE

A warm welcome to Y.M.C.A. for todays relegation battle (how times have changed).

As this is our last brochure for 1997, a huge thank you - for Deryck for bringing the brochure together each week. To Brian for co-ordinating 52 schoolboy games (more details inside). To Joe and Paddy for their great work on the ground in trying conditions. To Jim for many hours organising the bar. To David for maintaining the facilities. To Keith, Peter and Charlie for their executive support. To Brian and lately John for maintaining the fight during a difficult season. Thank you to all our supporters for their support during the year and I now ask everybody to consider a nomination for the Allen O' Donnell Award (Awarded to the individual who provided distinguished service either on or off the field in 1997) - nominations to K.Lewis by September 14th please.

In conclusion I wish Grainne Leahy a happy Christmas in India. Congratulations, she has just been selected on the Irish Team for The World Cup Finals. I wish Shay McMonagle and Clontarf Football Club every success in Division 1.

Finally I wish my successor and friend Fergus Carroll every good luck as our incoming President.

SCHOOLBOY CRICKET

This year the schoolboy underage teams in Clontarf played an incredible 52 games. It was another successful season with two trophies won and all sides competitive in their respective leagues and cups.

UNDER 11

The club ran both an "A" and "B" team in the Under 11 league. The "A" team won 7 out of 7 but were unlucky to lose their league semi-final to Pembroke. By way of consolation, however, they beat Rush in the final of the "Blitz" played, this year, at The Hills C.C. Rob Hedigan captained the side and received great support from all players including Marcus Flynn, Daniel Walsh, Ger Ryan, Barry Caldwell.

The "B" team won 4 out of their 7 games and just missed out on a quarter final place where they would have faced the "A" - what a prospect that would have been. Scott McGreal excelled throughout the season while Robbie O'Brien was outstanding with both bat and ball.

Paul Ryan and Andrew Cullen took charge of these teams with assistance from Kevin Harding and they are greatly appreciate the support from parents during the summer.

UNDER 13

Again, two teams were fielded at this level but the "B" team did not play in the league. This was largely to provide experience for players and the return of 2 wins from 5 showed the depth of talent at this age group.

The "A" team had a great campaign losing only once, however, in a very competitive league this was only good enough to finish in the runners up spot. In the semi final of the "Top 4" competition a poor performance against Malahide finished their interest. Captained by Ross Maybury, there was excellent batting from the openers Oisín Lamb and Bill Coghlan while Colman O'Loughlin made good progress through the year. Conor D'Arcy lead the bowling attack and received fine support from James Flynn and Eoin Ryan.

UNDER 15

The Under 15s just failed to qualify for the semi finals after winning half of their 6 league games. The Hill halted their cup run in the quarter final after 2 earlier round victories.

Sean Will Barlow lead the side by example and under the rules of the competition had to retire on a number of occasions, while Damien O'Kelly confirmed the good impression he made last year with the ball. There were other useful performances from Peter Flanagan and Paul O'Sullivan, however, Ronan Murphy was missed after he injured his foot early in the season.

UNDER 18

The Under 18s won the McGrath Cup by beating Old Belvedere in the final at CYM. They reached the final after a very tense game against The Hills at Castle Avenue, thanks largely to a unbeaten innings by Simon Kuhn. The final was even closer and it took 29 off the last 2 overs by Andrew Cullen to enable Keith Spellman to collect the trophy. The success was not repeated in the league, where Leinster were the victors in the final.

Daniel Gaughran scored a 100 in a league game and Brian Devine bowled well all year. Other good performances were recorded by John Hunter and Stephen Teeling.

Thanks are due to Dermot Sweeney who managed this side.

Many players were honoured by Province and Country this year and we congratulate them

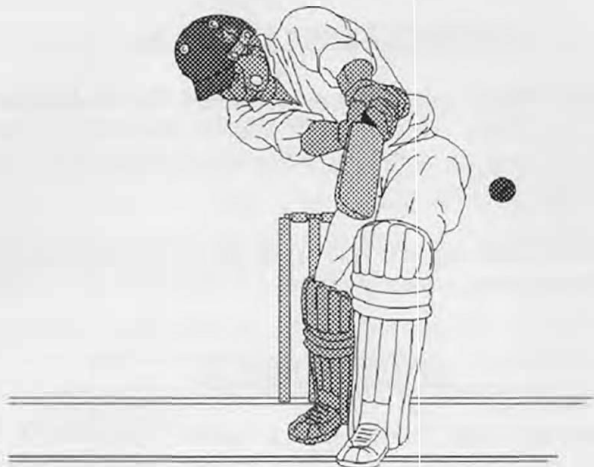

Leinster Under 13 - Ross Maybury (captain) and Bill Coghlan

Irish Under 17 - Keith Spellman and Andrew Cullen

Irish Schools - Daniel Gaughran

Leinster Under 19 - Paul Ryan, Daniel Gaughran and Andrew Cullen

Finally, a word of thanks Brian O'Sullivan who co-ordinated the schoolboy teams. His work is greatly appreciated and the number of under age players coming through is indicative of his and Andre Botha's work.

20 OVERS CRICKET

Some people would argue that 20 overs cricket has no place in the "proper" game as played by gentlemen and so on, it is after all just an excuse to have a slog and has about as much aesthetic appeal as a piece of cheese. Consequently the cricketer who involves themselves in such a common pursuit obtains no sophistication from the 20 overgame. However since the people who play the "proper" game all live on Pluto and drink Pimms their detractors are of no real concern here.

Anyone who witnessed the recent performances of the 3rd XI in the Y.M.C.A. Salver will know full well that 20 overs cricket is as viable a form of the game as any other. The 3rd XI demonstrated a tenacious will to win and proved that there is far more to the shorter game than mere slogging.

Their success in the competition has thus far been the highlight of an otherwise under achieving season (Although credit is due to the schoolboys and ladies teams for their success.) We all assume that winning a competition proves that the visitors were the best or the luckiest but the 3rd XI who won the Y.M.C.A. slaver were much more than that.

They began with a wonderful victory over the then holders Old Belvedere and even at that early stage there was a feeling that perhaps a trophy beckoned. The next round was a hard fought match in sub arctic conditions at Milverton. It was the coldest wettest most horrible day quiet probably ever to play cricket, Smythy still has frostbite and Mario is unlikely to ever stop chattering. It's not often that any team gets the better of the Hills in their own place and given the extreme weather the win was even more impressive.

The semi final was in all senses an "epic", like the timeless test or one of the cup finals of folklore it spanned days. Indeed Frank Furlong and Keith Dexter's opening stand of 143 was the highest in any 20 overs competition by a Clontarf pair and at 10 days was the longest, consequently their respective half centuries were the slowest (possibly ever). Clontarf finally made a score of 163 which was thought to be unassailable but Malahide replied with 153 and may even have won if it were not for an outstanding catch and some highly motivated fielding.

In the final we beat YMCA at their own competition by 20 runs or so. The main features of the match were Bryan McDermott's batting, Wally's dismissal (you should ask him how he was out, how many times he was out and how he attempted to be deemed not out), Mario's injury? and of course Butsy's grin after we had won (it lasted for 9 hours).

Absurdities aside and in all seriousness the 3rd XI's triumph in the YMCA salver epitomised the real spirit of Clontarf cricket. They played with unity and an indomitable desire to win, they were led with aplomb and showed that the only thing between a team that wins and a team that does not is a 6 letter word. Belief.

CLONTARF'S FIRST INTERNATIONAL

Clontarf Cricket Club have provided many players to the international side, however, the first of these was S. H. Crawford who represented Ireland in a game against London County in 1903.

Current Club records only begin at 1920 so we know little of this player thanks to the Irish cricket Union, we have the full details of what was to be Crawford's only cap for Ireland.

It is interesting to note that in 1903, Clontarf were still only a junior club, so it was quite an honour for one of our members to represent their country.

The debut game was played over 2 days in June at the Mardyke in Cork, against a star-studded London County side. Including amongst the opposition were, the great W.G. Grace and two other Test Captains, W.L. Murdoch (Australia) and J.W.H.T. Douglas (England). The Irish side, in fact, included a test player, also, Sir T.C. O'Brien, who captained the team on this occasion.

And so to the game. London batted first and scored 237 runs, Crawford taking 4 for 36 in ten overs (including J.W.H.T. Douglas). In reply Ireland totalled 291 with Crawford scoring 11 and Douglas exacting his revenge, by gaining Crawford's wicket.

While not matching his 1st innings performance, Crawford took a further two wickets when London batted again, and he finished with match a further of 6 for 60. The game petered out in a tame draw and Crawford did not get the opportunity to bat in Ireland's second knock, however, based on his debut figures he must be considered most unlucky not to have added to his international cap.

SCENE - CORNER OF ANY CRICKET GROUND

"Good man yourself. Is there anyone sitting there?"

"I don't see anyone"

"God you're very sharp. Mind you don't cut yourself. Well what's happening?"

"We lost the toss so we're in the field"

"Oh great! That means we'll be chasing 250 - we haven't a hope. I should have gone to Croke Park. I don't want to hear the result, I'll watch it on the telly. Who's bowling anyway? Oh God, not him! He couldn't hit a barn door with a tin can....oh well bowled son! Well at least we got yer man out - it's a start, I suppose"

"It's a grand day though, isn't it? After all the bloody rain. The place is looking well"

"Yeah, but you can't sit in front of the pavilion any more. You can't see over the flowers"

"They look well all the same. Anyway, we're as well sitting here - it's the warmest spot on the ground. Oh, there's another fella out - what happened there?"

I think he was stumped - I wasn't watching. Did you see the football last night?"

"Greatest load of rubbish I ever saw. They never have a decent match on. Oh, there's a big hit - yer man will never catch it - he couldn't catch a cold....oh well held!. God he's a great pair of hands"

"They're not doing badly today. Oh, here's that left hander - he's a fine player. He'll beat the ball around. Oh God, he's out. Well bowled lad!"

(Six wickets later)

"Well that's that!. Are you going in for tea. Still the best tea in Leinster. No?...Well mind the chair, I'll be back.

Oh, howya girls, looks like a grand picnic. You're dining in style today....ah no, you're grand, I'll go in for a cup of tea"

(30 minutes later)

"Ah that was grand. Well, what are we chasing? Ah, that's not a lot. Still it's probably too much for our lads, the way they've been playing - they couldn't hit their way out of a paper bag. Oh, that was a fine shot - well done!"

"God, mind yourself!! Six! Six! Good man yourself! He's lovely to watch when he's in form,"

"Pity he hadn't a few more to keep him company. Mind you, that other fella's had a few good knocks. He's not a bad player....ah look, he's out. What sort of a shot was that? That's it, we're in trouble now"

(50 runs later)

"They're not doing too badly, but anything could happen with this shower. Who do you think will be the next president? At least your woman Dana's out of the way".

"Ah sure they're all as bad as each other...oh mind yourself"

(picks up ball and tosses it back to fielder)

"Who hit that?"

(Later Still)

"What's the score anyway? Oh God, it's all over. Well done lads! That's a great win! Best side we've had in ages, aren't they?"

"They surely are. Are you going for a pint?"
